Mr. and Mrs. Harley Cowles and daughter expect to leave soon for Lunenburg, where Mr. Cowles is to take charge of the Silby store in that town. They have a very pleasant tenement engaged, which is to be newly papered and put in order for them, and they will move as soon as it is ready.

On Tuesday, May 25, 1870, a quiet home wedding took place in the little town of Craftsbury, the contracting parties being Miss Emma Harriman and Jay S. Butler, both of Craftsbury. When this fact was brought to the minds of their friends, it seemed fitting that such an event as a golden wedding should receive some recognition. A very simple celebration was at first planned, but so many friends both within and without the Methodist church wished to attend, that it was decided to hold an informal reception in the evening, and the church people, and a few other friends of Mr. and Mrs. Butler, about a hundred in number, called on them, and extended congratulations and good wishes. Those from out of town who were present were H. Z. Harriman of Craftsbury, Mrs. Fred Davison of Brighton, Mass., and these two were both present at the wedding 50 years ago, and are the only two living witnesses of that event. The four girls who were brought up by Mr. and Mrs. Butler, their own daughters, Mrs. R. H. Moore, Mrs. Fred Davison, Mrs. Rose Allen, and Mrs. Nantie Spencer, were all present to honor the two people who had been father and mother to them, and upon these four depended the social part of the celebration. The people of the church gave the bride and groom of 50 years a nurse of gold, J. C. Eaton and H. W. Lytzer gave gold pieces, the four daughters of the bride referred to above, presented them with a handsome library table, the Rebekah Lodge gave Mrs. Butler a beautiful gold past Grand pin, and from other friends came quantities of lovely flowers, jonniquil and carnations in profusion. The Rev. Mr. McFarlane, pastor of the Methodist church, and the Rev. R. H. Moore, their son-in-law, made brief and appropriate remarks during the evening, and pure and sincere wishes were served, during the social time which followed. Mr. and Mrs. Butler had one wedding present 50 years ago, a pair of vases which they showed that evening, dating back to a day when wedding presents were not common or expected, but perhaps valued more than at present. They have lived in Lyndonville 38 years, 35 of which Mr. Butler has been in the J. C. Eaton & Co. hardware store. They are universally known and loved, their character and usefulness as citizens is attested by daily deeds of worth, and all their friends are glad they have had fifty years of happy married life, and a successful home.

At a ball game Wednesday afternoon between the Aggies and Institute, the latter were the winners by a 12 to 1 score.

Earl Rundy and family are moving this week to West Burke, where they will live with and keep house for his father. Harold Rundy's people will move into the tenement vacated by the Roundys, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fraser have engaged the tenement, now occupied by the Pyots. Mrs. John Merrill of Newport is in town for a few days with her mother, Mrs. Henry Watson.

Miss Doris Colby celebrated her 18th birthday May 15 with a whist party for several of her friends, there being two tables of players. A pleasant social time was enjoyed, and the guests presented their young hostess with a fine clock as a souvenir of her coming of age. Refreshments were served, and a general good time enjoyed.

Miss W. S. Jeters was in St. Johnsbury on a business trip on Tuesday, and is so much improved in health that she was able to make some business calls, the first for a long time.

At the St. Peter's Parish house Tuesday evening, an informal reception was given the new pastor, Mr. Huber and wife, and the evening closed with a whist party, there being six tables of players. Some repairs have been made on the vestry and Mr. and Mrs. Huber, and their little son, Robert, have moved in and gone to housekeeping.

The pupils of the Lyndonville Graded School have been rehearsing for some time a concert which should serve to show the progress they have attained in their musical studies. The concert was given on Wednesday evening, under the direction of Mrs. Amory D. Sawyer, the instructor in music, and Mrs. E. M. Shepley, accompanist. The hall was packed to its capacity with the friends and families of the children, and a splendid program was given, which included marching songs, choruses, by individual and in classes, singing of choruses and quartets, and costume drills. The proceeds of the entertainment will go towards playground equipment and the expenses of the music department. The success of the program certainly speaks well for the training the children have had, and the patience and efficiency of their teachers. About $200 was cleared for the object above mentioned. The program in full is as follows:

The boys of the American Legion gave a very successful dance in Music Hall Thursday evening, with music by Henault's six-piece orchestra. Fine music drew a good crowd, as always.

Three-piece orchestra had their usual dance in Cable's hall Saturday evening. On Friday evening comes the big dance of the Orientals, with the local Singing Orchestra of Littleton, N. H., for musicians, which is sure to prove a great attraction.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ladue have returned from their wedding trip, and are occupying a few rooms in the Custom house, and housing with Mr. Ladue's mother, Mrs. Clarence Ladue. Mr. and Mrs. Ladue are in the custom house at their work in the Moore-Tripp store.
